Christian Marketing

Declare helps churches effectively share their passions, identify their unique callings, and Declare the Good News of Jesus Christ by creating content for their online profiles

Pandemic living has been a difficult time for all of us. Many of us have suffered the pain of loss and grief, and while some might not have lost a love one, I think it is safe to say we have all been a little lost in the changes of pandemic living.

Our church families have been isolated from one another, disconnected from the holy sensation of sanctuary. We struggled to stay connected and encouraged in this uncharted territory of websites, Facebook, and Zoom.

It was in the midst of this struggle that I heard God calling. In January of 2021, I felt God calling me to begin a ministry that helps churches get back that holy sensation of sanctuary as they stream their online service. I felt God calling me to help churches reestablish connection and provide encouragement through online ministries. So, in response to God's guidance and calling, Declare Christian Marketing was born.

No matter if your church is just beginning to dive into online ministries or is looking to build upon an already solid foundation, Declare is wanting to support and guide you in your online ministry. Declare offers a variety of packages to fit your church's needs. The goal, though, is to serve your congregation and community in whatever way I can, glorify God, and ensure your online presence is a faithful ministry.

My name is Michaela McMullin, and I received a degree in Marketing and Communications. I am passionate about Jesus and marketing! I am excited to step into my calling and DECLARE the glory of God with you.

Let's connect and discuss how Declare can help your church proclaim, connect, and minister.
